

Jacque Thatcher, 5th grade teacher at Chicago Street School was awarded a grant for $410 to purchase the CPS Wireless Chalkboard from the United Educational Credit Union. This enables her to walk around the classroom and teach making sure everyone is participating and staying involved in the lessons. She can share the chalkboard with students to actually show work on the screen without getting them out of their seats. She can highlight an example from an Internet page. She can also let students edit each other's work on the screen. She believes that having the teacher free to maneuver around the room and implementing interactive education is the best way for students to learn.
